SNYDER-GRAY DEATHS SET FOR JAN. 9 WEEK

Only Clemency of Gov. Smith $76,000. Can Save Pair From the Chair.

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 23 (A.P.) .- Mrs. Ruth Brown Snyder, of Queens Village, mother and housewife, and Henry Judd Gray, her admirer, a corset salesman of East Orange, N. J., must pay with their lives some night during the week beginning January 9 for the murder of the woman's husband, Albert Snyder, magazine art editor.

The time for their execution in the electric chair at Sing Sing Prison was fixed today by the court of appeals, which yesterday upheld their conviction in the Supreme Court of Queens County last May. Each of the seven judges of the court signed the death warrants, which were sent to Warden Lawes of Sing Sing Prison.

With today's action by the court, the only hope of Mrs. Snyder and Judd Gray is in the clemency of Gov. Smith. This hope, it generally is believed, is feeble, since the governor, throughout commute the death sentence to life the march focussed pub-imprisonment when the decision of the on the mining situation. court of appeals has been unanimous, two-term tradition.

Those who are a party to this plan publicly explain that the President acted most generously when he renounced any desire to run again, at a time when there was no doubt that he could have the nomination, and they think that the Senate when it goes on record in favor of maintaining the two-term tradition should show some public appreciation to a man who refused to break it. There is no getting around this argument. It is pointed out.

Check to Praft Movement.

Check to Draft Movement.

Secretly, however, the sponsors of the plan see in it an effective means of checking the draft movement, or at least making it more embarrassing for the President to accept it. All who now form the so-called 'Western wing' were willing to vote for the La Follette resolution at the ast session. But now they make no last session. But now they make no secret of the fact that they expect additional support. Conditions have changed as they see it and any number of senators who were reluctant to indorse the resolution at the last session because of the fear that they might be considered as hitting at Mr. Coolidge, will not have such qualms now.

The progressives argue that now, in tact, is a most appropriate time to pass the resolution because it can not be considered as aimed at any one person. The President has said that he did not "choose" another term, they reason, so the Senate, by passing an antithird term resolution can not be looked upon as seeking to pmbarrass. full meeting of the committee. plan recently submitted privately to the Public Utilities Commission, then withdrawn and rewritten and submitted publicly by Harley P. Wilson, a member of the board of directors of the North American Co. of New York, which controls the Washington Railway & Electric Co.

Clayton, chairman of the federation's committee, was a candidate, with federation support, for r ubership on the Public Utilities Commission or for people's counsel. He was not appointed. Thereafter he surrendered active direction of his committee's work for fear that committee action in criticism of the new Public Utilities Commission might be deemed due to pique at failing of appointment. Maj. Emig has been the acting chairman of the committee since that time.

Some months ago Maj. Emig went before the federation and said the committee had an offer from a source he resolutely refused to name to finance a traction survey by Charles Hansel. The federation voted him authority to have the work done. It was not generally understood at the time that a merger plan was to be drafted to be sponsored by the federation. Nortis and Willis Embarrassed.

The fact that he is the progressives' candidate for President will make Senator Norris, of Nebraska, timid about supporting it. His candidacy is predicated upon the admission that he has no chance, so he would see nothing selfish in his support of the measure Senator Willis, of Ohio, would do. He is looked upon as a candidate, but then he is not likely to do anything displeasing to the President.

He might let himself be sold on the argument that the resolution has for one of its purposes a commendation of the President. Senator Borah is expected to stick with his progressive colleagues in the matter. It would not be human nature for Senator Curtis, of Kansas, the party leader, to oppose the

Upon arriving at the station, collateral for the appearance of the men in court today was set at $40 each, and after an unsuccessful effort to get a bondsman, the two men managed to scrape together enough money between them to secure the release of Kechane. He left the station to park his aute and pets in a nearby garage for the night, and promised to try to obtain the release of his companion. The money paid over as collateral was mostly in small change, which took the officer on the desk nearly 10 minutes to count.

By a close vote the grange decided to hold its 1928 convention in Washington, after Denver had made a strong bid for the meeting.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 23 (A.P.).—Attorney General Frank E. Daugherty today instituted suit in the Jefferson Circuit Court in behalf of the State of Kentucky for dissolution of the Kentucky Jockey Club and for forfeiture of its franchise, alleging that a further continuance of the club as a corporation is detrimental to the interests and welfare of the commonwealth.

The petition came close upon the heels of a bitter gubernatorial campaign in which J. C. W. Beckham, Democrat, had asserted that if elected he would work toward repeal of the State law permitting the club to operate the parimutuel betting system. He was defeated by Judge Flem D. The petition stated that the jockey club is a corporation with a capital stock of $4,000,000 engaged in operation of race tracks at Louisville, Lexington and Latonia and that in March, 1926, it acquired and began to operate a track in Chicago. In connection with the race tracks, it was alleged the jockey club set up and operated gambling devices, commonly referred to as parimutuels. The petition alleged that the sale of tickets in connection with the parimutuel machines is a lottery and in violation of section 226 of the Kentucky constitution and a violation of the Federal laws

> STUDY OF BRITISH COAL STRIKE CALLED REASON

Photostat Copy of Document "Obviously Forgery," Declares Author.

New York, Nov. 23 (A.P.) .- Dr. Ernes Gruening, an American writer of social subjects, in a telegram to the denied statements published in Hearst newspapers today that he was author-leed last year by President Calles, of Mexico, to study the situation in Eng-land in regard to the coal strike of 1926 and that Calles ordered a pay warrant for $10,000 drawn in Gruen-ing's favor. Dr. Gruening's telegram said:

said:

"Bo-called expose relating to Mexico which has been appearing in the Hearst newspapers, in the course of which, in the issue of November 23, I am portrayed as being authorized by President Calles to study the situation in regard to the British miners' coal strike in 1926, preliminary to President Calles sending, as the Hearst papers allege, $100,000 to the striking coal miners, for which mission the Hearst expose further alleges I received $10,000 from President Calles, is an absolute and outrageous lie."

Photostat Called Forgery

Terming the photostat of the docu-ment which purported to be a warrant ordering the Mexican treasurer genera-to pay him $10,000 "obviously a for-gery." Dr. Gruening said he never dis-cussed the British coal strike with cussed the British coal strike with President Calles, that he never was authorized by Calles to go on "this or any other mission," that he never :- ceived a cent of money "directly or in-directly" from Calles, the he was not in England in 1926 and that he was not the thing of the coal of the coal of the coal of the calles not in Mexico on the date that the alleged order was issued. Dr. Gruening's message said that he was "taking the necessary legal steps was taking the necessary regal scope to secure redress."

When Dr. Gruening's message was called to the attention of officials of the New York American they said that at no point in the article was it stated that Dr. Gruening had received the money or had been in England.

Confirmation Not Sought.

How unlikely it is that if Presiden "How unlikely it is that if President Calles were sending any one on a mission so secret that it was to be charged 'to secret expenditures,' Dr. Gruening's telegram continued. "His letter calling for this payment would likewise give in full detail the purpose of the expenditure. Such a letter could have been conceived only in the imagination of the forger and the yellow journalist working in unison.

"It would have been a simple matter for the Hearst papers to have checked up on the facts. The most elementary regard for the first principles of journalism or any real desire to serve the truth rather than to serve up a sensa-tion, required such checking up. But I have not even been approached by any Hearst representative.

"So, while repeating that the material published is a uterly and maliclously false, I am taking the necessary legal steps to secure redress."

GOVERNOR DENIES RIGHT

Oklahoma City, Okla., Nov. 23 (A.P.) Exchange of verbal salvos was the only activity today between the two Oklahoma political factions at odds over the question of convening a special session of the legislature December 6 to sion of the legislature December 6 to investigate the executive department and other State officers.

The assertion of Representative Thomas Johnson, one of a committee of four legislators who have called the session, that he has "concrete proof of more than a dozen irregularities," was the most recent in the interchange of retorts courteous and otherwise that has been in progress for three days.

The committee in calling the session, it claimed, acted on inherent rights, but Gov. Henry S. Johnston, in refusing to issue an executive call for the were conferred and not inherent.

The Oklahoma City Times printed an article intimating the presidential campaign of Gov. Al Smith, of New York, might be connected with the movement for the special session. The story pointed out that Gov. Johnston, a militant "dry" Democrat, was opposed to Gov. Smith's candidacy and quoted "observers" as declaring the special session "is only part of a plan to swing Oklahoma in line to support Al Smith for the Democratic nomination for President in 1928."

will be linked with the transatiantic telephone system, permitting communication by radio from the United States to France, via England, as soon as the channel cable is repaired.

AMERICA ON THE SEAS.

Mr. Bridgeman, first lord of the admiralty. told the House of Commons yesterday that the British government was now refuctant to lay down any more 10,000-ton cruisers, because it is hoped that naval limitation may yet be reached. He intimated that "although Great Britain's proposals for limitation in the numher of 10,000-ton cruisers had not been agreed to at Geneva," a new situation had arisen which gave hope that limitation might be accomplished.

It would be very interesting to American citizens to know the nature of this "new situation." Is the British government about to ask the great powers to another conference on naval limitation? Or has it received information that another conference is to be invited, possibly by President Coolidge? No light has been shed on that subject in the United States, beyond the remark by President Coolidge in his Union League address that "we shall round out our navy with more submarines and more cruisers." This remark would not indicate that another conference is impending, so far as the United States Government is aware.

Mr. Coolidge is known to be in favor of building more 10,000-ton cruisers. In this attitude he is supported by Congress and by public opinion. The United States stands far below both Great Britain and Japan in big cruiser strength, and it is universally felt in this country that, in view of the failure of Great Britain to agree to parity in naval strength, it is incumbent upon the United States to bring its naval strength up toward equality with that of Great Britain.

A proposal from the British government for a new conference would be received with surprise in this country. A large proportion of the people would be inclined to urge President Coolidge to accept the invitation. A still larger proportion, however, would look askance at the proposal, as a move to dissuade the United States from the immediate construction of big cruisers. The fact that only four months have elapsed since the spokesmen of the British government positively refused to agree to a plan providing for naval equality between Great Britain and the United States makes it difficult for Americans to accept the idea that the British government is now ready to change its mind and accept a position of parity with the United States on the seas.

Mr. Coolidge has caused it to be known that the American policy of building up the navy is not caused by the breakdown at Geneva-The United States intends to build more cruisers because it needs them for the protection of its expanding commerce and for national defense, not because Great Britain is planning cruisers for protection of her trade routes. The expansion of the American merchant marine is a certainty, although Congress has not yet adopted an effective plan to that But even with the fleet that exists, American commerce is rapidly growing in all parts of the world, and some regions are subject to disturbances that may make it necessary for American cruisers to get busy.

Whatever other nations may do, the American flag will sail the high seas, protected by the United States Navy. Never again will the United States permit its ships to be selzed under foreign orders which are set up as international law. When the Geneva conference broke down, after Great Britain and Japan had accepted the invitation to curtail their armaments in agreement with the United States, Americans saw a great light.

POPULATION AND REAPPORTIONMENT.

Whether or not Congress shall decide to reapportion representation in the House is still to be decided. Possibly the situation as it now exists will be allowed to drift along for another three years. But certainly following the census of 1930, for the taking of which Director Steuart will soon be preparing, a new apportionment will be forced. That the new apportionment will result in throwing more legislative power into thickly populated sections at the expense of the suburban and rural communities is inevitable. Just how far that change will extend will depend very largely upon the fixation of the basis of representation. That the total membership of the House will be increased seems probable as no State desires to lose numerical representation, and any effort made to decrease the number of members now allowed to any State is certain to lead to vigorous antagonism and very likely to a continuation of the deadlock. It is estimated by the Director of the Census that the population of the United States wil be about 124,000,000 by 1930. This is more than 30 times the number included in the first ensus of 1790, which showed a total of 8.929.214. Just as the Director of the Census makes public this estimate there comes from a committee a recommendation for w delimitation of the metropolitan district of New York. The area embraced within this proposed new district contains 3,765.5 square with a population of approximately 9.500,000, which probably will be increased by at least 500,000 by the time the census of 1930 is taken, This district covers New York

City and suburbs, the southern part of Conecticut, and a portion of New Jersey.

This district, which, roughly speaking, in cludes all territory within 40 miles of York's City Hall, contains upward of 8 per cent of the population of the United States. and in any apportionment that may be made by Congress that district of less than 4,000 quare miles will be entitled to 34 seats in the House of Representatives on the basis of the present total, while the rest of the country, nearly 3,000,000 square miles, must get along with the remaining 401 seats.

THE TAX REDUCTION BILL.

The ways and means committee has shaped the main outlines of the tax reduction bill as it will be presented to the House of Representatives. The bill will reduce taxes to the extent of about $236,000,000, as now estimated. The main reductions are upon corporation incomes, from 13 1/2 per cent to 11 1/2 per cent, which will reduce revenues about $166,000,000; automobile sales tax, reduced to 11/2 per cent, reducing the revenues by $33,000,000; raising exemption of tax upon admissions to $1, reducing the revenues by $8,000,000; reducing by one-half the tax on club dues, cutting down the revenues by $5,-000,000. The bill also reduces or repeals the tax on cereal beverages, stock transfers, produce stamp tax and wine tax. The committee voted to retain the inheritance or estate tax. It also refused to reduce the surtax on incomes falling within the intermediate brackets.

The total reduction of taxes as agreed upon by the committee is greater than President Coolidge and Secretary Mellon deem to be wise, and less than is demanded by the Democratic leaders in Congress. But the estimated reduction is not far from what was expected by the public, and if the bill should pass as prepared by the ways and means committee the public will be satisfied.

It goes without saying, however, that the tax reduction bill will be the football of politics pefore it is enacted. This is a political year. Neither party will lose an opportunity to make capital out of taxpayers' relief, and neither will concede any credit to the other. The voter and taxpayer will be asked by each party to believe that the opposing party was bent upon oading him down, and that only the patriotic and determined action of the party of the first part prevented the outrage.

The public would like to see the tax reduction bill passed by Congress early in the session. If it can get through before flood control, naval increase and other big appropriation projects are considered, the taxpayers will feel sure that temporary relief is coming, even if future years will see an increase again,

If the public were organized to protect itself it would insist upon a reduction of prices by all corporations that are to receive the benefit of the 2 per cent cut in income tax. Will prices come down, or will corporations pocket the gift which Uncle Sam intends to spread to all the people? Will automobiles be cheap er, as a result of the 11/2 per cent reduction of tax on sales? Wait and see,

THE TRADE ARMISTICE.

For a brief period, at least, the trade armistice between France and the United States will be maintained, and it will not be necessary at present for Assistant Secretary Lowman to issue orders to add 50 per cent to the duties on all French products arriving in this country Fortunately the diplomatic branch of the ad ministration has been able to prevail upon the French government to suspend its proposed tariff schedules, under which German manufacturers were to have profited greatly to the detriment of American commerce, until the representatives of the two countries may have a chance to reach a trade agreement.

What threatened to develop into a trade war between two friendly countries has been averted. Nearly $1,000,000 worth of American exports tied up at French ports since the Franco-German agreement went into effect have been started on the road to their ultimate destina

It is believed that a new trade treaty will be concluded early in the coming year, and that the Senate will have ample time to secure ratification before the expiration of the modus

DISTRICT TAXATION.

Only through group action and teamwork can the District of Columbia attain desired ends, in the opinion of Merle Thorpe, Editor of Nation's Business. The most important problem now facing the city, he said further in an address delivered before the Board of Trade, is that of equitable fiscal relationship between the Federal and District governments.

In the past, as Mr. Thorpe pointed out in his address, Congress has been laboring under the illusion that the local tax rate is comparatively low. Citizens of many other areas are asked to pay considerably more than $1.70 as their tax rate. Elsewhere, however, tax valuations are not based upon market value. Washington pays taxes far out of proportion to other communities. The District of Columbia is assessed on a valuation of $1,150,000,000. which is higher than the real estate assessment of Baltimore, with a population of 800,-000; higher than that of San Francisco with a population of 750,000, and only $250,000 less than that of Chicago. Group action and teamwork will be necessary to impress upon Congress the fact that Washington is entitled to relief from its excessive tax burden. There should be no dissenting voices in Washington's appeal. The city must stand united in petitioning that a wrong be righted.

THE PHILIPPINE QUESTION.

Manuel Quezon, champion of Philippine in dependence, has made a statement interpreted in some quarters as indicating that he has backed down a bit in his demand for immediate withdrawal of the United States from the islands. Speaking before the Economic Club of New York City recently, he said that he did not see any reason why the Philippine problem could not be solved on the basis of the United States retaining its present trade relations and maintaining naval stations to protect Far Eastern trade. In any event, Mr. Quezon said that he hoped there would be an early settle ment of one sort or another which would clearly fix the future relationships between the United States and the Philippines, so that American capital on a large scale, which is now kept out of the islands because of the political uncertainty of the future status, might be attracted to them for the development of Nothing probably is to be accomplished by nting out to Mr. Quezon that uncertainty as to the future status of the islands is largely due to the continual agitation kept bubbling by himself and his followers. The matter of only by Filipinos themselves. The United States stands on its original statement of policy, that independence will be granted as soon as Filipinos are able to assume the trust and burden of self-government.

Any policy other than that pursued by the United States can end only in disaster. Divided responsibility will not work. America is interested in the Philippines to a considerably greater extent than as a source of supply of certain raw materials, a Far Eastern market of great possibilities, and a naval base. Were there not also a desire to aid the Filipinos in building themselves up as a body politic, the so-called problem could be handled in any of half a dozen different ways.

Quezon said further of his plan that under it the United States "would have all the advantages it now has in the Philippines without the responsibilities." Responsibility once assumed, however, can not justifiably be discharged until it has been fulfilled. The United States must be the judge of its responsibility toward the Philippines.

FARMING IN BRITAIN.

The question of agriculture is naturally an important one for a country like Britain, which does not produce food enough to support its population, especialy now that the plethoric proportions of that population have begun to cause anxlety among its statesmen and economists. With a view to getting the best pos sible results from the land actually under cultivation and to stimulating a still greater development of tillage, the Rothamsted experimental station is maintained. There an im mense amount of research work is carried on into the principles underlying the great facts of agriculture, always, of course, with an eye single to an improvement of the standard.

The report for 1925-1926 shows that for turnips, swedes, and wheat the cultivation of arable land is shrinking, but that intensified culture, such as that of potatoes, vegetables, fruit, and sugar beet, continues to expand, Thus, while the average yield of potatoes in 1905-1914 was 3,614,000 tons, it had risen in 1925 to 4,209,000 tons. Sugar beet rose from 180,000 tons in 1924 to 440,000 tons in 1925. Orchards in the eastern counties, which had an average of 51,132 acres in 1905-1914, increased to 81,477 acres in 1925, while the acreage under small fruit in the same counties rose, for the same respective periods, from 40,900 to 42,635.

The Rothamsted researches show that nitrog enous fertilizers increase crop yields in almost every season and are the steadlest of all in their action, and that phosphates and potassic fertilizers are much less regular in action, but, where effective, are of considerable value. It is also pointed out that superphosphate is a sound investment for root crops, for while it may give little return in good seasons when roots are plentiful, it gives much-needed increases in bad seasons when roots are scorce. For potatoes the experiments proved that the nitrogen fertilizers were the most consistently useful, as they gave every year, with rare exceptions, an increase of about 20 hundredweight of potatoes per hundredweight of sulphate of ammonia, whatever the season and whether farmyard manure had been used

It is interesting to note that the Rothamsted scientists make light of the old bugaboo of the law of diminishing returns, which used to send tremors down the spine of the political economists of other days. These moderns admit, in theory, the validity of the law and the force of the argument that beyond a certain point the use of fertilizers is not economically sound: but they hasten to add that most farmers are not near the point of diminishing returns, and that they ought to use plenty of

INVIOLABILITY OF THE HOME,

There should be little of interest in a court decision reaffirming the inviolability of a man's home. Yet so frequently has this fundamental right been violated of late, in attempts to enforce the prohibition laws, that a ruling handed down by Federal Judge Killits, holding court in Toledo, Ohio, is worthy of

In dismissing a case against a farmer accused of having operated a still, on the ground that the Federal officers had no search warrant when they invaded the property in the dead of night, the judge said:

The time has come for this court emphatically to lay down to prohibition men the fact that there is a higher and more of the home. That law is written into the Constitution. I am forced to instruct agents that they must not, under any circumstances, go into a private residence without a warrant and must not accor

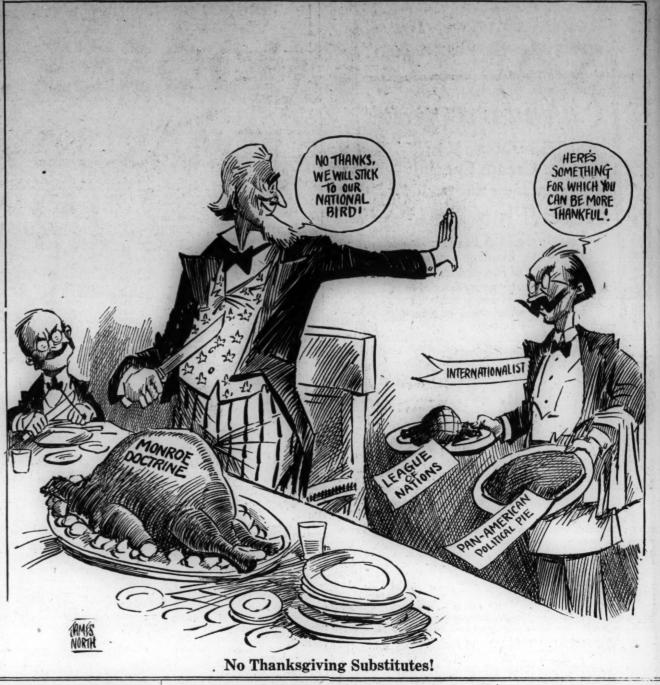

Judge Killits' order constitutes a warning to that group of prohibitionists concentrating their efforts toward attempting to make search and seizure lawful whether or not a warrant has been sworn out beforehand. Such a law can not be made effective, for constitutionally the inviolability of the American home is guaranteed. It makes no difference that the eighteenth amendment also is part of the Constitution. Granted that it should be enforced no less than all other laws, its enforcement must be accomplished without voiding any other part of the American Magna Charta.

Prohibition officers, or other individuals for that matter, who invade private property without adequate authority violate the law of the land and should be prosecuted. They enjoy no immunity beyond that accorded to ordinary citizens. Judge Killits rendered a wise decision in freeing the citizen whose rights had not been respected.

Howling for tolerance is merely a confession that you belong to the minority.

If the punishment should fit the crime, why not public flogging for floggers?

The prize optimist is now planning how to use the money he will save when the tax cut enables corporations to lower prices,

Judging Men

THE opinion of men concerning money and those who possess it is is strangely illogical. All men, or nearly all, desire money. Yet out where the tomb is, is the inventor all, or nearly all, nurse a grudge against men who have acquired of the two-pants suit. great kuantities of it.

Let us suppose that you find on the level top of a mountain two young men. The one was lifted to the heights and left there by a fiver. The second climbed the rugged wall of the mountain. The one who got to the top without effort may be an excellent young man, clean of heart and brilliant of mind, but he deserves no credit for having arrived. The other, who earned his way to the top, deserves praise.

Thus it is with money. One who inherits a million is fortunate. He may be a good fellow, and he may have a normal wit. But he must be judged by what he is and not by what he has, for his possessions give no ndication of his character. Another earns a great fortune. Here, then, is proof of ability. The fact that one has earned money is proof of industry and ability above the common level. In America the getting of money is the standard of success. It is a ordid standard, perhaps, but all are engaged in the game of getting and nearly all play the game fairly and cheerfully. There are few violets wasting their sweetness on the desert air. The topnotchers in every line get their reward in dollars, and each man's earnings tell the rank he holds in his craft and the worth of his service to society.

We may console ourselves with the reflection that success is a matter of circumstance, but in our hearts we know that great musicians, great pended in erecting a new building for the Department of Agriculture. It is a service is worth.

The Unknown Hero Ohio State Journal: The great public benefactor on whose tomb we. as a man of sedentary pursuits, intend to lay a wreath as soon as we can find

At Least a Piano Louisville Courier Journal:

Duchess of Torlonia, formerly Miss Elsie Moore, of Bridgeport, Conn., left her duke, she says, because he knocked her down with a chair. The American girl, when she marries a duke, has a right to expect he will not knock her down with anything less than a grand piano.

Who Thought It Up?

New Orleans Times Picayune: "The first iron bridge in the world," says a paragraph, "spanned the Severn, in England, and was called the 'iron bridge.'" Those British always have shown a wealth of originality and imagination in their names.

How Do You Know He Lied?

Parson Weems who first made up that story of Washington and the cherry tree. That is to say, to instill the love of truth in the minds of young America he seems deliberately to have lied himself. As a farcial contradiction between precept and practice the thing is a classic, though we have never seen it stressed in this light before.

The Caruso Case. New York World: In explaining why it has set aside the conviction of Fran cesco Caruso, who was found guilty of murder in the first degree after he had killed the physician who he thought was responsible for the death of his child, the Court of Appeals probably expresses pretty well the feeling which ost of us had about this pathetic case. Caruso obviously killed in a frenzy of grief, and how sufficient premeditation entered into his act to warrant a verdict of first degree murder was something not easy to understand. This is exactly the point raised by the court in setting aside the verdict. Diplomatic Housing.

Springfield Republican: Gradually the United States is building, or buying adequate quarters for its diplomatic representatives in foreign countries, and standing obstacles to the acceptance of important diplomatic posts by any except men of large private means. In spite of the handsome and, in some cases, elaborate buildings which have long been enjoyed by foreign diplomats assigned to Washington, the United States has not paid to the nations from which they come, until the beginning made in recent years, the compliment of similar quarters at their capitals.

Philippine Administration.

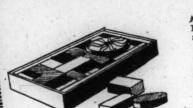

Philadelphia Public Ledger: One of the main difficulties of Philippine administration has been that no funds were provided to pay advisers and assistants for the governor general, forcin these positions. The Philippine ate the necessary funds to pay civilian lent solution. But, of course, it is not. Legislatures have a way of attaching strings when they appropriate money. The Philippine Legislature is reported to have attached a very important Flooding the ceiling of worlds with string in this case. The measure pronot be sent on tours of inspection of the most important tasks of the governor general's official family. The solution seems to be incorrect.

Sofia, Bulgaria, Nov. 13 (.P.).—A prominent diplomat returning from Rome today is authority for the statement that the engagement of Princess Giovanna, third daughter of King Victor Emmanuel of Italy, and King Borls of Bulgaria is expected to be announced before June next.
Only one point remains to be settled. Giovanna, who is a Catholic, must embrace troopthodox Greek religion of Bulgaria, which requires the usent, tacit, at least, of the Vatican.
Two interesting points arise with respect to such a union. Premier Diversion Permit Upheld.

Having before him complaints brought by all the Great Lakes States except Illinois, representing three separate attacks upon diversion, Mr. Hughes, after taking testimony, recommended that the cases be dismissed. He found the permit granted March 3, 1925, by the Secretary of War, under which the diversion was being made, was valid, and held that the complaining States should have the right to proceed against the withdrawal should regard to the services in the Columbia.

Taking the position that the consent of the United States was necessary to make any withdrawal lawful and that Congress had the power to regulate the diversion. Mr. Hughes found that while Congress had not directly authorized the diversion it had conferred authority upon the Secretary of War to do so and that his permit for the withdrawal was authorized and was not arbitrary. The complaining States were successful in their contention that the diversion of 8,500 cubic feet of water a second had resulted in lowering the lake levels 6 inches, whereas Chicago claimed it was only 4, but the special mater thought this lowering could be prevented by compensating works which illinois and the sanitary district had offered to construct.

While the diversion primarily was for sanitary purposes, Mr. Hughes said, he concluded the interests of navigation were so closely affected as to warrant the permit. He expressed the belief that as Chicago progressed with the development of other means of disposing of its sewage the volume of fater withdrawn from Lake Michigan would be decreased.

DEAR MISS SINGLETON: As the result of an argument about your viewpoint on a matter of importance to us, we are asking your opinion.

We are two girls, and at the present time are "going with" two boys from a neighboring town. BOY'S BODY WAS COVERED WITH SEVERE ITCHING RASH

Skin now without a blemish

Ketchum, Me., July 13:—"About seven years ago my nephew developed a severe case of skin trouble which looked like eczema. His face, hands and whole body were covered with the trouble and his skin became raw from scratching. Many soaps and ointments were tried without success before Resinol Soap and Ointment were prescribed and used. The first few applications stopped the itching and soon he was entirely healed. He now has the loveliest skin I ever saw and, thanks to Resinol Soap and Ointment, no unsightly blotches mar the beauty of his complexion."—(Signed) Vivian M. Eagle, Vernon Street. Jean Bedmi's "Cook-A-Doodle-Do," a new Columbia burlesque, will be next week's attraction at the Gayety Theater. "Cook-A-Doodle-Do" is patterned after the revues prevailing in New York night clubs, but on a greater scale of magnificence in scenic and costume equipment, also in the matter of entertainers and chorus. Comedy, novelties and fine expositions of satire will rule, with a feature of unusual prominence engaging the services of Harry Riser's Columbia Recording Orchestra. This band of ten jazz musicians spent the summer of 1927 at the Follies Bergere Cafe, in Atlantic City, where they played dance music. The elements of comedy will involve the talents of Charles Wesson, an eccentric fellow. The usual large and well schooled chorus of Bedini beauties will be presented by the Turner Brothers, Jean Bedini, himself, and Arthur and Bunny. JOSEF HOFMANN, PIANIST.

Josef Hofmann, world famous master of the planoforte, who has not appeared here since the season 1925-1926, will be heard in concert at Poll's-Theater next Tuesday afternoon, November 29, at 4:30 o'clock, as the third attraction in Mrs. Wilson-Greene's afternoon concert series.

tion in Mrs. Wilson-Greene's afternoon concert series.

Mr. Hofmann has been devoting a great portion of his time to teaching and writing. As a result his concert have been limited. Washington will be one of the few cities to hear Josef Hofmann this season.

Bach's "Ghromatic Phantasy and Tugue" will open the recital followed by Beethoven's "Sonata in A major (Opus 101)," in four movements; Chopin's 24 prefudes and a final group consisting of the presto from Mendelssohn's "Phantasy in F sharp minor," Debussy's "Soire en Grenade" and Liszt's "Campanella."

METROPOLITAN.

"Figures Don't Lie," Paramount's newest starring vehicle for Esther Raiston, is announced as chief feature of next week's bill at Crandall's Metropolitan Theater beginning Saturday. In this film play Miss Raiston is afforded an admirable vehicle for her talents.

The bill for the new week will also embrace a variegated list of abbreviated camera subjects including a new two-reel comedy, the latest compilation of the Metropolitan World Survey, added short reels and the delightful contributions of the Metropolitan Symphony Orchestra under the conductorship of Daniel Breeskin.

"Figures Don't Lie" is to be catalogued among those more recent of the Paramount productions designed to bring to the fore young artists whose accomplishments promise great things for the future. The action is consistently interesting, the development of the plot logical and direct and the direction such as to emphasize the sterling qualities which will impress themselves upon all spectators who view this fast moving successor to Miss Raiston's earlier vehicle revealed on the same screen, "Ten Modern Commandments."

RIALTO.

Silk stockings on shapely feminine legs, and off, feature "Silk Stockings." the picture starring Laura La Plante, which comes to the Rialto Saturday How the very essential articles of modern feminine apparel mentioned in the title threatened to break up a romance furnishes the basis of the story. Briefly told, it concerns Sam and Molly Thorn-nill, a 1927 model couple, who love each other so much they quarrel. On their wedding anniversary Sam is forced by his boss to take some buyers out to dinner. One of the women puts a pair of silk stockings in Sam's pocket. When Sam gets home Molly is being entertained by a mutual friend. George Bagnall. The stockings are discovered and Molly sues for divorce. She tells a frightful tale in court and is shocked when the divorce is granted. Both repented it. The judge explains that she must keep away from her husband or the divorce will be voided automatically. So Molly plans to plant herself in Sam's bedroom that injent. He error, she

BELASCO.

Those who saw Sydney Stone, prominent English-American actor, in the original production of "Peg O' My Heart." will, no doubt, be anxious to witness the presentation of "Restless Women." which Mr. Stone has written for Anna Held, jr., and which opens a week's engagement at the Belasco next Monday night.

Sydney Stone's ambition to become an author and playwriter has at last been realized. When his new manuscript is enacted on Broadway, it will mark a new milestone in his life. When he came to the United States, practically penniless in 1913, he dreamed of writing plays that would please the common hordes. The jazz-mad age was disappointing to him until Anna Held, jr., came to the fore and announced that she was producing just such type of play as he had written.

The Earle Theater next week, beginning Sunday afternoon, will present a unique double-feature program which enlists the services of a single star in only remotely related dual capacity. Mrs. Wallace Reid will occupy the head-line position on the vaudeville portion of the bill as star of an intensely dramatic playlet bearing the title of "Evidence," in which she is supported by a specially selected cast of able players. The photodramatic screen feature for the new week will be "The Satin Woman," in which Mrs. Reid is pictured in the title role. "The Satin Woman," is a gorgeous production setting forth the intense story of a beautiful woman, the arbiter of style and fashion—a veritable feminine Beau Brummel—who almost forgot that she was a wife and a mother.

The latest steel trade reviews give somewhat differing pictures of the industry. Also while denials came from many directions today, the feeling persisted that steel mergers are in the making. The Bton interests which recently took a position in Republic Iron & Steel are rumored to be working with the Melions of Pittsburgh in the formation of a merger of a number of independent steel companies.

President Campbell, o' the Youngstown Sheet & Tube, says his company is not concerned in mergers and that the new financing was done wholly for company purposes. Trumbull Steel management also issued denials. However, officials of many of the smaller steel companies maintain that mergers present the only solution of their problem of making a profit, and that they are bound to come. Eventually it is believed Bethlehem will again

illy, it is believed, Bethlehem will again in a merger, not for the purbut to increase profits

So far the much-talked-of merger of motor companies in which Durant is supposed to be interested, and including Dodge, Packard, Pa'ge, Chandler and Hupp, does not seem to have got beyond the "companionate marriage" stage, if it has got that far. Motor companies are faced with lively competition next year and a number of them may find the going more difficult as independent units. The trouble seems to be, however, in getting the strong companies to agree to shoulder the burden for the eak ones.

CURB MARKET REVIEW.

New York, Nov. 23 (A.P.).—A rush of buying orders reaching the curb market shortly after noon today carried a long list of miscellaneous issues into new high territory and alsed the volume of trading above 400,000 shares for the first time in several weeks. Pressure had been rather semental in the morning, but strong support for such issues as Firestone Tire. General Fireproofing. Midland Stel and Newmont Mining introduces an upward movement which soon spread to the most sections of the list of the day as traders prepared for the holiday recess. Firestone, which had advanced 10 points, to 170, a new peak, lost half the gain, and there were material recessions in the other leaders. The day's list of new highs included Insurance Co. Morth America. Club Aluminum, and several others which have been active recently.

Illinois Pil Lieue reached a new top, but other of insues were slightly easier. Heavy trading took blace in Standard of Indiana at fractionally lower prices, and vacum fell back 2 points.

The last touchdown of the game came in the final quarter, when Mason threw a running pass to Laney from the 25-yard line for a 6-pointer. Laslie's try for the extra point was good.

The Central Team, for which this was the second successive defeat in two weeks, having previously bowed to Eastern, 26-0, revived hopes among its backers in the final quarter, when it made a serious threat to score. The Southern eleven produced several heroes. It was Laslie, giant tackle, and Walker, a guard, who did herole service in the line. It was Funderburk, diminutive and speedy left half back, who, by his brilliant open field running, was a constant threat to Central, and it was Laslie's kicking, Mason's heady generalship and the plunging of Full Back Landis which further were outstanding.

In defeat, William Simmons, captain and quarter back of the local team, played a brilliant and consistent game. The first quarter revolved in a kicking duel between Simmons of Central and Laney and Mason of Charlotte. Central was in a bad position once when Boyd missed the pass from center, recovering the ball on his own 20-yard line, losing intercepted a pass, reversed the

Chicago, who does not favor the picking of "all" teams, cast no vote, but the other nine coaches put those two stars on their first teams, without exception.

Roberts is invaluable to the team because of his fine kicking ability, and Thomas for his effective defensive play against forward passing.

The contest undoubtedly evolved around the relative merits of a passing game and a rushing game. The serial attack is the chief scoring resource of the Blue Jays and has played a prominent part in its impressive record of the season. On the other hand, the the season. Eby, Ohio State, received the most votes as runner-up to Crófoot. "Pest" Welch, Purdue's brilliant sophomore, was short of either team by the narrowest of margins, his single year of competition probably cqunting something against him, Louis Gilbert received a stray mention as quarter back to get his passing arm and educated toe into the back field, but all but two chose him as a half back. Also in spite of Army's apparent advantage Navy people feel that the Middles will develop a punch that they have not hitherto shown and all lands

Heavy work was completed on Tuesday, so there was no scrimmage, except of a dummy nature to smooth off some of the special formations. Similarly there was an extensive drill on the defense against forward passes, Ensigns Tom Hamilton and Gouge, of the coaching taff, alternating in throwing and receiving them. Some went through successfully, but the backs smeared the majority.

While the Army boys have practically an all-star backfield, the advantage in weight probably will be with Navy. Lloyd, left half, and Clifton, full back, weighing 200 and 190 pounds, respectively; Capt. Hannegan, at quarter, carrying 163, and Ransford only 150, give the quartet an average of 175%.

On the other hand, the local contingent is looking to Joe Clifton and Shaggy Ransford, diminutive as he is, carrying only 150 pounds, to rip the Army line, and Whitey Lloyd, Hannegan and Ransford to negotiate successful swings around the Army Ilanks.

West Point, Nov. 23.—With the cheers of a thousand fellow cadets ringing in their ears, the players on Army's football squad trotted off the "plains" gridiron this evening all finished with their preparations for the big battle of the year with the Navy on Saturday. A monster rally, with the academy band furnishing appropriate music, was staged on the field tonight at the conclusion of the work-out.

Tomorrow Army will have a light drill and then await the journey to the Metropolis and the whistle which will send it into action.

The squad worked long and hard today in the final home drill. Defensive practice against Navy plays and a dummy scrimmage was preceded by a long kicking drill. Army also gave up much "me rehearsing the plays which it will use against the Middies on Saturday. The varsity was in ct throughout and there was but little shifting about of players.

"Pest" Welch, Purdue's brilliant sophomore, was short of either team by the narrowest of margins, his single year of competition probably counting something against him. Louis Gilbert received a stray mention as quarter back to get his passing arm and educated toe in the back field, but all but two chose him as a half back.

"Tiny" Lewis, Northwestern's full back, who suffered from a series of injuries this fail, was the preference of the coaches for second team full back, overshadowed by Joesting. Fritz Humbert, Illinois, and George Rich, Michigan, also received mention.

Navy Drilling G. W. Grooms 'Mystery Man' For Important Game Today

Baty, Former Alabama Star, Is Surprise Weapon of Crum.

"Sweet Full Back" Is Guarded From Eyes of C. U. Scouts.

A "MYSTERY MAN" will be injected into the George Washington University line-up this afternoon in the football game with Catholic University, according to the preparations of George Washington coaches, it has been learned

Baty only a few days ago responded to Coach Crum's urgent call for football material as the important game with Catholic University neared. Hard pressed for reserve strength as a result of the sparsity of talent among the small squad of seventeen players, George Washington faced the game sadly handicapped, but the addition of Baty to the squad has greatly bolistered the team's offensive and defensive power.

Ignorant of Baty's affiliation with the school. George Washington coaches had not reckoned upon his aid until the final call for material was isued. Baty made an immediate impression upon Coach Crum with his fine work in practice and his play justified the reputation he had earned as a member of the University of Alabama's back field in 1921 and 1922. Baty is a third year student at George Washington and within the one-year eligibility rule. Extreme precautions have been taken by George Washington coaches to guard Baty from the peering eyes of Catholic University scouts and reporters and Sherlock Holmes methods have been employed to allay suspicions that a newly added star was on the squad. Washington Post reporters, who learned of the presence of Baty with the team could glean only by the most round about methods that Baty was the same player who had been considered a star while at Alabama University. While a group picture of the squad was being taken Baty was shunted to

While a group picture of the squad was being taken, Baty was shunted to the far side of the gridiron by Coach Crum and deliberately segregated from the remainder of the squad while re-porters were on the field.

Wearing a huge number 11 on his back, Baty was easily distinguishable until it was discovered that another player also wore the same number. Coincidentally, Baty wears a moustache and coincidentally the other player on the squad wearing number 11 also is moustached.

From an impartial viewpoint, however, it is thought that Navy's greatest hope for success lies in the forward-passing game.

Virtually every man may be found on the receiving end of forward and lateral tosses, and the larger majority are proficient in heaving them. The bulk of the kicking will fall to Lloyd, whose work has been excellent at times, though Hannegan and Ransford are capable performers.

In that event or in the event that May enters any other college he will not consider a possible baseball career at present. May has been an outstanding athlete at Business and more than one college would hold out a welcome hand to him. The Business star has not decided upon any school as yet.

Special to The Washington Post New York, Nov. 23.-Although no incouncement has been made by the New Yor: Yankees, it was learned here today that Pitchers Walter "Dutch" Ruether and Bob Shawkey have been given their unconditional releases by Manager Miller Huggins of the world's champlons. Both are veterans, Shawkey being 37 years old and having played professional ball since 1911, while Ruether, 34 years of age, has been in the game the same length

Ruether, who was obtained via the waiver route from the Washing-ton Nationals near the the end of the 1926 season, had a 1927 record of thirteen victories and six defeats. Practically all of his winning ef-forts were turned in early in the scason, however, and he was of little use to the Yankees during the final half of the schedule.

In last year's lane, the Catholide defeated George Washington by a 17-9 score, but the Colonials are favored to avenge for that defeat.

With the return of Howard Walker, regular center, and Emory Clapper to the squad, the Colonials' will present their strongest eleven against the Brooklanders, although several players are still nursing minor injuries.

Moreover, the Colonials have the more concentrated running attack of the two teams, which has been displayed very successfully by its fast backs, supported by a hard-charging, rugged line. Catholic University's chief hope lies in its brilliant forward passing attack, which played a conspicuous part in its early-season victories.

FANTASTIC AND HOT TODDY CLIP RECORDS AT BOWIE

Feature Race Captured by War Eagle

Man o' War Colt Easy Winner in Field of 6 Distance Stars.

Six Favorites Score; Just Folks Only Choice to Fail.

Brecial to The Washington Post.

OWIE RACE TRACK, Md., Nov. 23.
Drawing away from a bulky field of platers in the seventh race, Missionary registered the sixth triumph of the day for publi-choices when h won by a length and a half from John S. Mosby, with North Breeze a head back to take third place.

Just Folks was he only favorite of the day to fail to reward his backers during a program which saw two hore track records fall over a lightning-fast course. Fantastic set the first mark of the day when he won the second race, a 6½-furlong test, in 1:18 flat, and Hot Toddy clipped the time for the 7 furlongs when he won the race. In 1:24 1-5.

War Eagle, son of Man o' Warcial to The Washington Post.

War Eagle, son of Man o' War—Earlne, of the McLean Stable, was the winner of the Old Dominion Handleap, at a mile and a sixteenth, offered as the feature attraction of the afternoon.

Jockey Huff had the mount on the winner, and he merely had to retain his seat to bring War Eagle home a length and a half in front of Son of John, the second choice. War Eagle was an even-money fa-vorite.

Six accepted the issue in the feature race and War Eegle was off with the leaders, taking command from Son of John early and being in restraint throughout. Huff sent War Eagle into a five-length lead in the back stretch, but the colt was running easily and the remainder of the field was virtually out of it, although Black Friar and Son of John made a determined but brief challenge. Son of John challenged again in the stretch, but War Eagle 'Tuished the winner with much in reserve.

It was Mrs. K. E. Hitt's good juvenile, Hot Toddy, that added the second track record to the day's racing. It was in the 7 furlongs of the Everglades Purse, for 2-year-olds, that he ran the distance in 1:241-5, to win well in hand. Howard M. Maxwell's consistent filly Loveken raced to the place and James F. Johnson's Palm Beach beat W. T. Anderson's Gold Bet for third.

The start was a good one and Loveken lost no time in going into Loveken lost no time in going into the command and Palm Beach, Hot Toddy and Gold Bet were soon with the Maxwell filly, with Hot Toddy racing on the outside and under a slight restraint. The others trailed along back of these and it had developed into a four-horse race before the turn out the back stretch was reached.

Abel was riding a confident race on Hot Toddy and he was content to rate the colt along beside Loveken and Falm Beach almost to the stretch. There he shook up the son of Ed Crump and it took just a fraction of a second before he had taken command and for the remainder of the trip Abel was looking back at intervals to ascertain a sure lead to the end of the journey, and it was all of five lengths he had retained over H. W. Maxwell's Loveken. W. T. Anderson's juvenile gelding. Johnny Agee, graduated out of the maiden ranks when he took the measure of twelve other youngsters that contested the opening 5½-furlong dash that was framed for maidens, with the winner coming in for such extensive support during the final few moments that his price soared until he became the closing choice. He upheld his honor by going into the lead directly with the break, and only for a brief duration of the journey was he in danger of defeat.

This happened on the turn when Bramsblau made a determined effort to draw away, but Johnny Agee was equal to the emergency to regain command, but he swerved over sharply at the furlong pole, impeding Bramabiau enough that his rider lodged a claim of foul, which was not sustained by the stewards. John J. S. was the one to reach third place before Fancy Field.

Fantastic, that races for R. T. Wilson, Jr., was dropped down many notches from a recent high perch to be placed among a rather ordinary lot of platers in the second event, that attracted a field of thirteen, and, under the guidance of Jockey W. Curran, the filly simply made a show of the other contestants.

ply made a show of the other contestants.

She traversed the 6½ furlongs in the excellent time of 1:18, to clip a fifth of a second from the track record, and her margin was all of six lengths from Sun Rock, with Knight of Merci II racing into third place.

The third setto of the afternoon was made up of the cheaper grade of platers and fifteen accepted the issue for the mile and a sixteenth affair, with fust Folks and Dry Toast receiving the most support. Of the pair, Dry Toast proved to be the better of the two and he accomplished his purpose with ease. After taking command on reaching the back stretch, Caruso, who piloted the winner; permitted his mount to step away into a long lead, and for the remainer of the journey there was nothing behind him that was capable of making the winner extend himself. Gay Farle raced into second place, beaten six lengths, while Evader was just a neck back of the place horse to ictain third money.

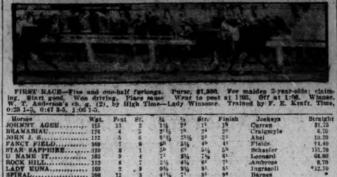

Maxiva, V. Kaiser's consistent filly, finally managed to earn the big share of a purse after many vicious efforts when she was returned the winner of the mile and a furlong of the sixth race that attracted another bulky field of fourteen. Maxiva was installed the choice for the issue and her victory was one of the most popular of the matinee. Sa she was in command of the situation from the beginning of the 9-furlong irip and at the end under pressure she showed the way to the finish by a length over Izetta, who was just a nose to the good of Fenilight, with Danger Signal an exceedingly close fourth.

OLLYER'S COMMEN

TURKEY day. This means the opening of the winter racing season and the initial card down at Jefferson Park is a corker. Twenty-three are named as starters in the big feature and most of them will go to the post. It looks like a big winter for "Bob" Eddy and his associates at the Sherwsbury Course. Clyde Phillips is going to send a nifty entry to the post in the big handicap and with an equal break in racing luck the Greentree stable will carry off the honors. PETER PETER, TIP TOP and ADIOS are the trio named to sport Mrs. Whitney's silks and they are ready to hurl a wicked set of heels.

GOLDEN SCHOOL should graduate from the maiden ranks in the opener, having worked in a most satisfactory manner. The opposition is due to come from TWO TOMS and GLEE.

In the second face MISS CHINQUY is selected as the most reliable wagering proposition of the Rocky Mountains.

In the "Inaugural" third on the card, CARTONIST is a genuine sleeper. While probably best over a longer route, he is going to run a great race and furnish considerable of an upset.

THE MAJOR is the jammy good thing for the fourth, while NITOUCHE is going to trim the juveniles in the sixth spasm just like breaking sticks.

For the closing dash, have your ticket on NINE SIXTY—a word to the wise being just like a kick in the slats.

BONIVAN is the sweet patootic at Lexington this aft. The Kaiser youngstef was backed to beat Irish Pal the other day.

Tony Wallace is sending RED LEATHER to the cleaners in the opening event. IRAQ is likely to go well here.

The banker connections plan to kill every Spainard in Louisville and Cincinnati with PERFECT MODEL in the second.

The lads who handle the slip second watches whisper SAN SAN in the sixth, and look for plenty of price.

Over at Bowle, the good word is to string with YoUNGER in the sixth heat. The same source informs me in commissions were planted in New Jersey overnight. More anno.

Two rushes by Mason put the ball on the 15-yard line and Funderburk lugged it to the 11-yard line on the next play. At this juncture Laslie kicked the field goal, giving Charlotte a 3-to-0 lead.

Since that time the Northerns have been successful in annexing the local honors of the 150-pound class by defeating the other teams in the 150-pound league following this tie game with the Wintons.

Practically the same line-up that started before will face a rejuvenated Northern line-up, brought about by last-minute changes by Coach Matt Heard. He plans to use Cohen, Fox, J. Farran and Smith against the South-east warriors. All of these last mentioned have shown during the past few weeks to advantage and will be used in the starting line-up.

The Wintons' back field, consisting of McGlue, Childs. Ball and Hanoock, are expected to play most of the game for the Wintons.

IN 2 GAMES TODAY

G. U. Entertains With Devitt Battling at Woodstock, Va.

JUST two games are scheduled for local prep school elevens today and one of the contests will be played on a foreign field. Devitt Prep travels to Woodstock, Va., to meet an old rival in the Massanutten Millarry Academy in the game abroad, while Georgetown Prep will furnish the local attraction when the Newman Prep Eleven, of New Jersey, will be entertained at Garrett Park, at 10 o'clock.

Manager Bucky Harris and President Clark Griffith immediately went into a huddle, the upshot being that the young flyhawk has been ordered to report here for treatment. A message was received from West last night say-ing that he will arrive Tuesday morn-

West's aliment is something more serious than charley horse, for the rest since the season ended would have cured the latter. The latest diagnosis is that something is wrong with one of the nerves in Sammie's leg and an X-ray will be taken as soon as the youngster, who is now at his home at Rochester, Tex., shows up here.

If this proves to be the case, West will be kept in the hospital for a month with his leg in a plaster cast. This will allow him a little more than two months in which to recover his strength and get back into condition before reporting to the Tampa training camp. Although, due to infected tonsils, which since have been removed, and injuries, West did not have a good year with the Nationals, Manager Harris still rates him as one of the most promising outfield rookies he has showed he was a sure catch of any ball he coud get to, and threw strikes on occasions to get base runners who showed too much ambition. He also gave promise of being the slugger which his average in the Southern Association indicated he would be.

But fate has been against West during the past two years. About midway of the 1926 season the Birmingham flash was "beaned" while at bat, brain concusion and a fractured skull resulting. At one time, the injury appeared fatal, but Sam finally pulled through, although he was unable to play during the balance of the season.

In the Tampa training camp last spring he was bothered with head-aches. These gradually wore off, and then he suffered several attacks of tonsilities. On the second Western trip he injured himself while acting as a pinch runner. This kept him on the bench until his next visit to the Mound City, when he again hurt himself. It is this injury which is still giving him trouble.

West had his tonsils removed while giving his leg a rest in the waning days of the past season, and both Harris and Griffith are confident that, with his injured leg healed, he will show the class expected of him next season, and it is for the reason that the Washington Club is so anxious to have him ready to strut his stuff when the opening gong sounds.

BOND TRADING HEAVIEST IN WEEKS; 6. NEW HIGHS

Entire Market Is Strong; Many Rail Issues at Top Levels.

PERUVIAN LOANS ARE FIRM

New York, Nov. 28 (A.P.) .- Despite she approach of the holiday, usually the signal for many traders to limit committments temporarily, the bond market today was one of the strongest and most active seen in several weeks. Heavy buying in many divisions was in the face of a sudden spurt of new issues, aggregating more than $150,000,000 in two days.

The prompt absorption of the new offerings by dealers gave renewed evidence of the soundness of the money market and probably this was a factor in the market's strength. Easy credit continued to contribute to higher prices, since bondholders are reluctant prices, since bondholders are reluctant to relinquish investments when the yield is higher than can be obtained in interest on current loans.

There was considerable disposition on the part of traders to take up issues convertible into strong stocks. Brooklyn Union Gas 5½s jumped 4 points to 235½, and International Paper 6s, Norfolk & Western 6s also advanced sharply to their best prices of the year or longer.

There were, in all, more than 30 new highs scattered through the various groups, and as many more issues duplicated their previous peaks. Many of the rails were in new maximum territory, including Eric 5s, Chicago & Alton 3s, "Katy" 4s, St. Paul 4s and "Nickel Plate" 4s.

Plate" 4s.

More than half a million in Goodyear 5s changed hands at fractionally improved prices, and there was heavy accumulation of Dodge 6s, which gained a point, crossing 90 for the first time since midsummer. Otis Steel 6s also were strong.

Peruvian bonds were firm, but failed to reach vesterdive page 65 crosses.

Peruvian bonds were firm, but failed to reach yesterday's peak figures. German Central Bank for Agriculture 6s fell to a new low below 92, but some of the German industrial liens received good support. Japanase, French and Italian obligations were easy.
Only a small amount of business was transacted in the Federal Government list, and prices were irregular.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

Chicago. Nov. 23 (A.P.).—Despite evening-up transactions to prepare for tomorrow's holiday, wheat took a downward course today, affected by enlarged official estimates of wheat acreage in Argentina. The wheat market here closed unsettled. %c to lc net lower, corn %c to %c %c for for oats unchanged to 1%c decline, and provisions unchanged to a setback of loc. Special attention by wheat traders was given to a final Government report estimating that Argentina has 19,700.000 acres of wheat this year, against 19,250.000 a year ago. This 450,000-acre increase led to considerable selling pressure in Chicago, and so, likewise, did failure of the Liverpool market to respond fully to yesterday's advance here. Besides, talk was current that the indicated 1927 Argentine crop is 229,000,000 bushels and that the Argentine exportable surplus is 152,000,000 bushels. This would imply 5,000,000 bushels. This would imply 5,000,000 bushels. This would imply 5,000,000 bushels increased vield over 1926.

The fact, however, that the United States Department of Agriculture has increased its estimate of foreign import requirements for wheat was something of an offset. It now seems probable that sixteen European countries will import at least as much wheat as last year, when they took 645,000,000 bushels net. Relative strength shown by Winnipeg quotations today were also of some effect.

It was likewise noted that stiff premiums were offered in the Southwest for domestic winter wheat, with 80,000 bushels sold for export via the Gulf of Mexico at 14c over the price of Chicago December deflect.

Corn and oats averaged lower on scattered selling. Advices of consignments indicated some increase of the movement of corn. The weather was more favorable, and husking was said to be making rapid progress.

Miscellaneous selling weakened the provision market, although hogs were 15c to 3ce higher.

Phillips Petroleum Co.

The Phillips Petroleum Co., although its properties have been only partially developed since incorporation in 1917. is a large producer of oil on the 655,994 is a large producer of oil on the 655,994 acres of land which are controlled in Kansas, Okiahoma, Texas, Arkansas, Kentucky and Louisiana. Daily average production of crude oil amounted to 55,023 barrels in 1926, as against 29,896 barrels in 1925. This company, unlike some other oil producers, has succeeded in earnings profits in all recent years. In consequence, dividends have been paid regularly, even during 1927, which has proven a poor year for the petroleum industry generally. Since no funded debt or preferred stock is outstanding earnings are, except for depletion and depreciation, almost entirely available for the capital shares.

Current Cata—The report of the Phillips Petroleum Co, for the third quarter of 1927 showed the smallest gross and pet earnings, before reserves, since 1924, yet a better return was indicated than many oil producers have been reporting. This report for the third quarter revealed a net profit of 4,014,286 available for depreciation, depletion and dividends. After allowance is made for depreciation and depletion it may appear as though dividend requirements were not fully earned.

Entire Market Is Strong; Many Rail Issues at Top Levels.

PERUVIAN LOANS ARE FIRM

the approach of the holiday, usually the signal for many traders to limit committments temporarily, the market today was one of the trongest and most active seen in sevl weeks. Heavy buying in many di-ions was in the face of a sudden spurt of new issues, aggregating more than $150,000,000 in two days.

The prompt absorption of the new fferings by dealers gave renewed evience of the soundness of the money tarket and probably this was a factor market and probably this was a factor in the market's strength. Easy credit continued to contribute to higher prices, since bondholders are reluctant to relinquish investments when the yield is higher than can be obtained in interest on current loans.

There was considerable disposition on the part of traders to take up issues convertible into strong stocks. Brooklyn Union Gas 5½s jumped 4 points to 235½, and International Paper 6s, Norfolk & Western 6s also advanced sharply to their best prices of the year or longer.

More than half a million in Goodyear 5s changed hands at fractionally improved prices, and there was heavy accumulation of Dodge 6s, which gained a point, crossing 90 for the first time since midsummer. Otis Steel 6s also were strong.

Peruvian bonds were firm, but falled to reach yesterday's peak figures. German Central Bank for Agriculture 6s fell to a new low below 92, but some of the German industrial liens received good support. Japanase, French and Italian obligations were easy.

Only a small amount of business was transacted in the Federal Government. acted in the Federal Governmen

What's Behind Your Stock?

Phillips Petroleum Co.

The Phillips Petroleum Co., although developed since incorporation in 1917, is a large producer of oil on the 655,994 acres of land which are controlled in Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas, Arkansas, Kentucky and Louisiana. Daily average production of crude oil amounted to 55,023 barrels in 1926, as against 29,896 barrels in 1925. This company, unlike some other oil producers, has succeeded in earnings profits in all recent years. In consequence, dividends have been paid regularly, even during 1927, which has proven a poor year for the petroleum industry generally. Since no funded debt or preferred stock is outstanding earnings are, except for depiction and depreciation, almost entirely available for the capital shares.

Current data—The report of the Current data—The report of the Phillips Petroleum Co. for the third quarter of 1927 showed the smallest gross and net earnings, before reserves, since 1924, yet a better return was indicated than many oil producers have been reporting. This report for the third quarter revealed a net profit of 24.014.286 available for depreciation, depletion and dividends. After allowance is made for depreciation and depletion it may appear as though dividend requirements were not fully earned.

By F. W. PATTERSON.

A picture of robust health and still taking an active interest in the numerous enterprises with which he is connected, Charles C. Glover, chairman of the board of the Riggs National Bank, will today be reminded by his host of friends in the financial world, as well as by the citizens of Washington generally, that this is the eighty-first anniversary of his birth.

Glover, who was born on November 24, 1846, started his career in Washington in 1866, when he entered the employ of George W. Riggs & Co., the banking house, and after mastering the branches of the business he became a partner in 1873. His rise in the financial life of the District dates from that time, as it was in this year that, largely due to his energy and foresight, the bank emerged from the panic, which tested the credit of every bank in the country, stronger than ever before. George W. Riggs died in 1881 and Glover became the dominant partner, in 1896 George W. Riggs & Co. was nationalized and became the Riggs National Bank, with C. C. Glover as its president. With a banking record during the early days which carried the old bank through three panics and by reason of his services to the Government in 1893, Glover had become a financially national character, so that it was little wonder that the national bank which he directed quickly took a leading place in the banking life of the District and developed into the splendid institution that it is today.

This banker's energies have not all been directed along the lines of banking for he early took an active interest in civic affairs, so much so that he has been styled "The Father of the Park System of Washington." He is responsible for the reclaiming of the flats now known as Potomac Park, and Rock Creek Park and the Zoo were the conceptions of his brain, and large tracte of land now in the parking system were now known as Potomac Park, and Rock Creek Park and the Zoo were the con-ceptions of his brain, and large tracts of land now in the parking system were given to the Government by him. The fact that today is a bank holi-The fact that today is a bank holiday interrupts a birthday record of long standing for it has always been the custom of officers of the bank and members of the auxiliary to greet the chairman of the board in his office at the bank on his natal day and it is not within the memory of the oldest official of the institution when this has not been done. Today officers of the bank will call on their chief at his of home and handsome floral pieces will be sent by them as well as by the auxiliary staff.

Bank Stock Soars 20 Points.

Farmers and Mechanics National Bank and Washington Railway & Electric common stepped into the limelight yesterday in a session of the Washington Stock Exchange which was marked by the lightness of volume of turnover. The bank stock, which is closely held, and rarely offered on the exchange, soared 20 points to 320 to set a new peak for the year, while the Railway common climed 10 points to new high ground at 440 %th only 10 shares involved in the transaction.

Capital Traction picked up ½ and two lots sold at 109½. The first trading in this stock since listed on the New York curb took place yesterday showed the stock behind this market with the sale recorded at 107½. Potomac Electric 5½s preferred was fractionally better with a small lot changing hands at 106½.

Sanitary Grocery preferred was strong and sold at 102, ex dividend. Mergenthaler Linotype advanced ¾, to 105, while 25 shares of Federal-American Co. common sold at 37½. Merchants Transfer & Storage preferred was unchanged at 104½, and National Mortgage & Investment preferred sold to the extent of 40 shares at 6½. A single share of Lanston Monotype sold at 104. Save for a sale of $1,000 Potomac Electric &s at 108½ and of $2,000 Washington Gas 68, series "A," at 106½, there was no activity on the bond side.

Bride Asserts Dry PROSECUTION MUST BE BY VOLSTEAD ACT

Says That Sheppard Law Now Covers Only Drunkenness and Public Drinking.

LAST STATUTE REPEALS

Crusaders Had Insisted District Regulation Would Mean Heavier Penalties.

Corporation Counsel W. W. Bride yes-terday advised the District Commissioners in a written opinion that dry prosecution, except for drunkenness and drinking in public, must be brought under the Volstead act and may not be based on the Sheppard law.

The Citizens Service Association for Law and Order had insisted the Shep-pard law be utilized instead of the Volstead act because under it heavier penalties could be invoked. Bride's opinion said, in part:

ion said, in part:
"It is a well-settled rule of statutory construction that where a new statute covers the whole subject matter of an old one, adds offenses and prescribes different penalties from those enumerated in the old law, the former statute is repealed by implication, as the provisions of both can not stand together.

plainly intended to cover the whole subject embraced by both, and to prescribe the only rules in respect to that subject that are to govern t."

The opinion then goes on to analyze provisions of both laws and concludes:

"Responding to the specific question asked, it is my opinion that the sale (and I include also the manufacture and transportation) of intoxicating liquors is regulated by the national prohibition act and that the provisions of the Sheppard law in these regards have been repealed."

With $2,362 already in hand, Red Cross workers declared several families who have had awards made them for repair work on their damaged homes will receive funds today as Thanksgiving Day presents.

Contributions totaling $107 were received yesterday at The Post. Those contributing were Mamie E. Norment, $50; E. F. Droop & Sons Co., $50; Mr. and Mrs. John P. McDowell, $5, and Maury H. Brown, $2.

Gen. Barnett declared he was well pleased with the manner in which local citizens contributed the first day of the drive for $25,000. The local chapter is unable to cope with its program of reconstruction out of its emergency fund, already depleted, and Gen. Barnett renewed his appeal for local citizens to push the campaign for funds over the top.

Plans for Both Respecting Great Falls Will Not Coordinate, Commission Told.

DEMANDS PRESERVATION OF POTOMAC'S SCENERY

Calls for Thorough Public Inquiry Before Preliminary Permit Is Granted.

Power and park plans suggested in connection with the development of a hydroelectric power project on the Poof Great Falls and the river's gorge were held incompatible yesterday by Lieut. Col. U. S. Grant 3d, executive officer, National Capital Park and Plan-officer. National Capital Park and Planning Commission, opposing the power project, in a supplementary report to the Federal Power Commission.

The power project could not be accomplished without destruction of the park extension plan, according to the report made following a conference with the park commission some weeks ago and Robert J. Bulkley and Col. Charles Keller, representing the Potomac River Corporation, in which the latter two suggested a plan whereby the power project could go ahead without interfering with the park program.

After consideration of the matter, Lieut. Col. Grant came to the conclusion that such a plan coordinating these ideas was impossible, and yesterday submitted to C. O. Merrill, executive secretary, Federal Power Commission, the following reasons for his opinion:

Conferences Are Reported.

Conferences Are Reported.

"Since writing my letter of July 18, 1927, to you, the commission had a conference with Mr. Bulkley and Col. Charles Keller, representing the applicants for a preliminary permit now before your commission, with a view to ascertaining whether a reasonable power development would not be possible without destroying the essential park values of the Great Falls and the gorge of the Potomac River down to Chain Bridge. All the modifications of the project, which seem in the light of present facts to promise the possibility of accomplishing this, were considered.

"While the economic practicability of any of these suggestions could obviously not be definitely determined without further investigation, and the applicants persistently advance this plea in behalf of their being granted a preliminary permit, nevertheless the investigation of the project by Government officers has already been sufficient to define fairly well the economic limitations of the project, and to make it clear even now that modifications of the project, and to make to cost as very nearly to consume the margin of profit. This commission is, therefore, as the result of the conference with the applicants, only confirmed in its belief that the two projects are incompatible.

Although no one was injured, the cars of Catherine Wessells, 1449 Spring road northwest, and Mary E. Kellogs. 1820 Clarkdale place northwest, were damaged. In the accident Monday four policemen were injured.
